OSU FACULTY-LED PROGRAMS EXPOS

Maximize your summer plans or time in between terms by enrolling in a short-term, OSU faculty-led study abroad program in one of more than a dozen locations around the globe. These programs give you a unique opportunity to interact with OSU faculty and students while experiencing another country or region and culture. Programs may include baccalaureate core coursework, field studies, service learning or work in a traditional classroom setting with daily excursions to local sites relevant to the topics being studied.

OSU FACULTY-LED PROGRAMS EXPOS

► Nov. 21, 2019 | SEC 112 | 4-6pm
► Jan. 22, 2020 | SEC 112 | 4-6pm

Reasons to Participate in an OSU Faculty-led Program

1. Learn alongside fellow OSU students and faculty
2. Most programs are 2-3 weeks in length and occur during the summer
3. Many programs are interdisciplinary and welcome all majors
4. Itineraries often include unique opportunities to engage in the local community
5. Great for first time and experienced travelers

Meet and Mingle with Faculty Leaders, Past Participants & OSU GO Staff

Office of Global Opportunities
www.undergraduate.oregonstate.edu/osugo